

Solution Foundry Associate Position

Job Description:

Title: Consultant

Primary Role: Specialize in the development and customization of Microsoft SharePoint® tools to support the implementation of Solution Foundry's EMSolution® Environmental, Health and Safety (EHS) software product suite for our industry and government clients.

Additional responsibilities may include:

- General information management consulting
- Project management
- Client management
- Software product development support

EMSolution® provides an intranet-based, EHS management system for conforming with ISO or other organization management system standards, tracking regulatory requirements and tasks, reporting and responding to incidents, project change control, and managing and communicating general EHS program information. Solution Foundry's Associates are responsible for participating in implementation teams that conduct installation, training and customization of EMSolution® for industry and government customers.

Job Qualifications:

Solution Foundry is seeking energetic professionals with work experience and/or education in information technology or a related technical field and interest in EHS information management consulting and software. The ideal candidate will possess the following:

- 0 to 5 years of experience or education in information technology or a related technical field
- Superior information technology skills: Proficiency in Microsoft Windows, Office and SharePoint. Website development, database development and network configuration experience is a plus.
- Demonstrated ability to self motivate, self direct and excel with minimal supervision
- Eagerness to work on a large variety of project assignments for a diverse client base
- Willingness to travel 50 to 75% of the time for project assignments
- Excellent communication skills and the comfort and confidence to interact directly with Solution Foundry's customers

Company Description:

Founded in 1997, Solution Foundry is an EHS management-consulting firm based in Atlanta, GA. We leverage a strong background in EHS Management System development and implementation, engineering, regulatory compliance expertise and exceptional skills in information technology to deliver innovative software products and consulting services to industry and government customers. Solution Foundry understands the requirements and implementation challenges facing our clients and offers a unique approach for developing and deploying EHS Management Systems. Our flagship product, EMSolution®, helps our clients to quickly and inexpensively implement a formal EHS Management System using Microsoft-based technology and software. EMSolution® includes a base EHSMS module that leverages Microsoft SharePoint, and additional database modules used for compliance tracking, incident management, change management (project review), and overall EHS program management.
